Know-how for Horticulture™

IPPS Conference 1st to 4th May 2008

Media summary

The IPPS held a successful conference, run along a similar format to previous conferences.

Points of difference that contributed to a successful event were:

- The non-city location in the heart of a horticultural area.
- Insisting that all speakers and activities related to the theme of “Opportunity through Diversity”.
- Having a special focus on youth in the program.
- An organizing committee prepared to put in a lot of time in planning and running the conference.

Dissemination of the proceedings will be through the Society’s own publication as well as reports in the horticultural press.

Key outcomes

1. There was wide industry involvement. Attendees included Nursery Industry Development Officers, researchers, educators, media and plant propagators.
2. Strong youth involvement in the program through the 6 pack sponsorship, South African exchange program and Next Gen.
3. Increased awareness within young propagators of the role that IPPS can play in the sharing of knowledge.
4. Exposure of attendees to a diverse range of horticultural topics and businesses in the Yarra Valley.

Evaluation

- The non-city venue location was chosen for its proximity to the heart of the nursery industry enabling more nurseries to be visited on the field day with shorter travel time.
- The non-city location also enabled a cheaper registration fee but off setting this was a lower quality venue/alternate accommodation as well as a greater distance from the airport. However, overall this compromise worked well.
- Greater cost was incurred transporting delegates to/from the airport but this idea worked well overall and delegates being specially met at the airport was a positive conference welcome.

What worked well

- Delegates were made to feel welcome with the email conference updates contact pre-conference, being met at the airport and transported to the venue /alternate accommodation.
- Transfers to/from airport worked well overall.
- Having the organizing committee, board members, 6 pack and international guests together for an informal dinner at Clive/Di’s place on the Wednesday night worked very well.

- The Thursday night welcome finger food dinner function allowed delegates to be welcomed, to meet and mix without the necessity to go and find somewhere to eat, allowing more interaction time.
- Having a strong theme for the conference ensured that the speakers and activities meshed well and focused presentations and discussions.
- Having a recent former 6 pack member as the 6 pack leader worked well.
- Doing a dry run for the field day, having short travel times and having organized tours/workshops at the nurseries visited worked efficiently.
- The organizing committee wearing distinctive red vests ensured they were easily identified.
- A focus on sponsorship for all activities worked well. The sponsors appreciated being given a few minutes presentation time before their sponsored activity (morning tea/ lunch etc).
- The hiring of a dedicated audio visual person with their own equipment meant the audio visual ran smoothly.

What didn't go so well.

- Healthy food options asked for/arranged by the organizing committee failed to be delivered, especially at the Thursday evening function.
- The space available for morning/afternoon teas was too cramped. The number of stations asked for were not there for the first morning tea.
- Breakfasts were not able to be served in the dining room meaning good networking times were not possible then.
- The food available for the Young Propagators and Fellows breakfasts was disappointing after being promised good breakfasts.
- Some planned items did not eventuate due to lack of time in the end. (delegate and sponsor lists, photo display on screen)
- Accompanying persons' tour was offered but not enough takers to run it. More advance notice/explanation may have improved this.
- Holding the AGM on the field day resulted in time pressure on the field day visits. Holding the AGM on a different day or visiting 1 less nursery would have overcome this.
- The 6 pack ran out of jobs to do on the Wednesday – a list of jobs possible would have helped overcome this.

Survey results

- We received 56 completed surveys and many verbal comments during and immediately after the conference. This good response was attributed to the emailed feedback form to delegates.
- Most people found out about the conference from last year's one or through IPPS newsletters/members information, the next highest category being from friends/colleagues.
- The majority attended to learn and interact and most commented in the feedback form that seeking and sharing/networking is what they really liked about this conference.

- Overall delegates rated the content and presentation of the various speakers as good to very good with the calibre of the speakers and the excellent well varied program mentioned.
- By far the most popular day of conference was the field day nursery visits with most delegates also finding the workshops very worthwhile.
- Most thought the opening address was excellent, appreciating an international speaker. (Peter Hatch) The young propagators session and Question box were also popular with delegates, closely followed by quite a few other topics.
- Many positive comments were made about the pre-conference email updates.
- Many commented on the good organization overall.
- A lot thought having the nursery tours day in between 2 conference-session days was good.
- Many suggested more on propagation per se for future conferences.

Improvement suggestions from surveys

- ❖ Rod Tallis award presentation. The information and history could be presented in powerpoint form with a photo of the man, details of his nursery etc.
- ❖ Gavel presentation - information and history could be in powerpoint form with photos of the trees, their wood and the region (map) they come from shown on the screen.
- ❖ Delegate list available to all delegates – in conference bag.
- ❖ Sponsor list as handout to delegates – in conference bag: template with usual sponsors and additions/deletions made by organizing committee each conference.
- ❖ Delegates' email addresses emailed to the conference organizer/email updates committee person as they register.

Recommendations

The following items need including in The Standard Operating Procedures of the IPPS:

- More detailed checklist/time line for organising a conference.
- The conference organizer needs a list of items requiring times from the program e.g. President's welcome; 6 pack to be presented; induction of new members; presentation of new board members; Rod Tallis award; Award of Honour; hand over of gavel.
- List of relevant people to contact for information on such things as the South African Exchange; 6 pack organizer; Rod Tallis; Award of Honour; HAL submission.
- List of 6 pack duties.

Welcome to the 2008 IPPS conference.

Your hosts are; Andrew & Sue Mathews, Clive & Di Larkman, David and Di Daly. - we are the ones in the red vests. We have put together a program that we believe you will both enjoy and learn from. Of course there will be things that you need. Please come and see one of us or one of the Six Pack. We want you to get the most you can from this conference.

2:45 pm	Conference close	Andrew Mathews/David Cliffe - wrap up of the weekend's events.
3:00 pm	Afternoon Tea	Tea, coffee and biscuits.

It is important to your hosts that you enjoy your visit to our home. If you need anything, have a problem or a suggestion for next year please take the time to let us know. Don't forget, we are the team in the red vests.

The Post Conference tour starts at 6.00pm with a visit to a local winery for drinks, winery tour and dinner. Non tour participants are also welcome to come along. Please see Pam at the registration desk if you want to attend the dinner or the tour.

We have a full agenda. If you have not booked for an event let us know. I am sure we can fit you in.

Don't forget we have a range of IPPS memorabilia—caps, ties etc. They are available at the registration desk. Also visit our website and you may find some useful links.
